

Built to care

Keep our NHS safe at 65

It's the NHS' 65th Birthday on 5 July

The NHS was built to care for Britain. Don't let this government dismantle it. Communities, patients and staff are fighting for our NHS by:

Exposing the cuts and privatisation that threaten to break it up

Campaigning for patient safety and safe staffing levels to protect you and your loved ones

Campaigning against NHS money going into private profits

Lobbying for transparency and openness from all providers

Celebrate by joining the campaign—www.tuc.org.uk/nhs65

JOIN OUR RALLY FOR THE NHS

Lord Mayors Parlour, Manchester Town Hall,
Albert Square, M2 5DB

7pm—9pm , Friday 5th July 2013

Speakers include:

Lesley Mercer, TUC President (Chair)
Lynn Collins, NW TUC Regional Secretary
Len McCluskey, Unite General Secretary
Dave Prentis, Unison General Secretary
Debbie Abrahams, MP Shadow Health
NHS workers from across the region

The main principles for our NHS at 65

These are the six principles that should be the basis of a quality health-care system.....

That care should be free at the point of use

That the care service should be funded from fair taxation

That care should be based on clinical need

That all care should be provided by the public service

That public health should be at the core of health policy

That the NHS should be open, transparent and fully democratic
